

A face mold used for reconstructive surgery in different stages of production with the final plate to the far right IWM (Q 30459)

Help our stories reach everyone

We are currently recruiting digital volunteers from across the world who want to make a difference. All you need is computer access and a willingness to learn.

We are asking people to help create alternative-text and audio descriptions to make our online collection items (like the one on this poster) more accessible for everyone.

Volunteer to make history more accessible.

Find out more and apply at iwm.org.uk/volunteer
by 9am on Monday 21 April 2025

