

Private Tours at IWM London

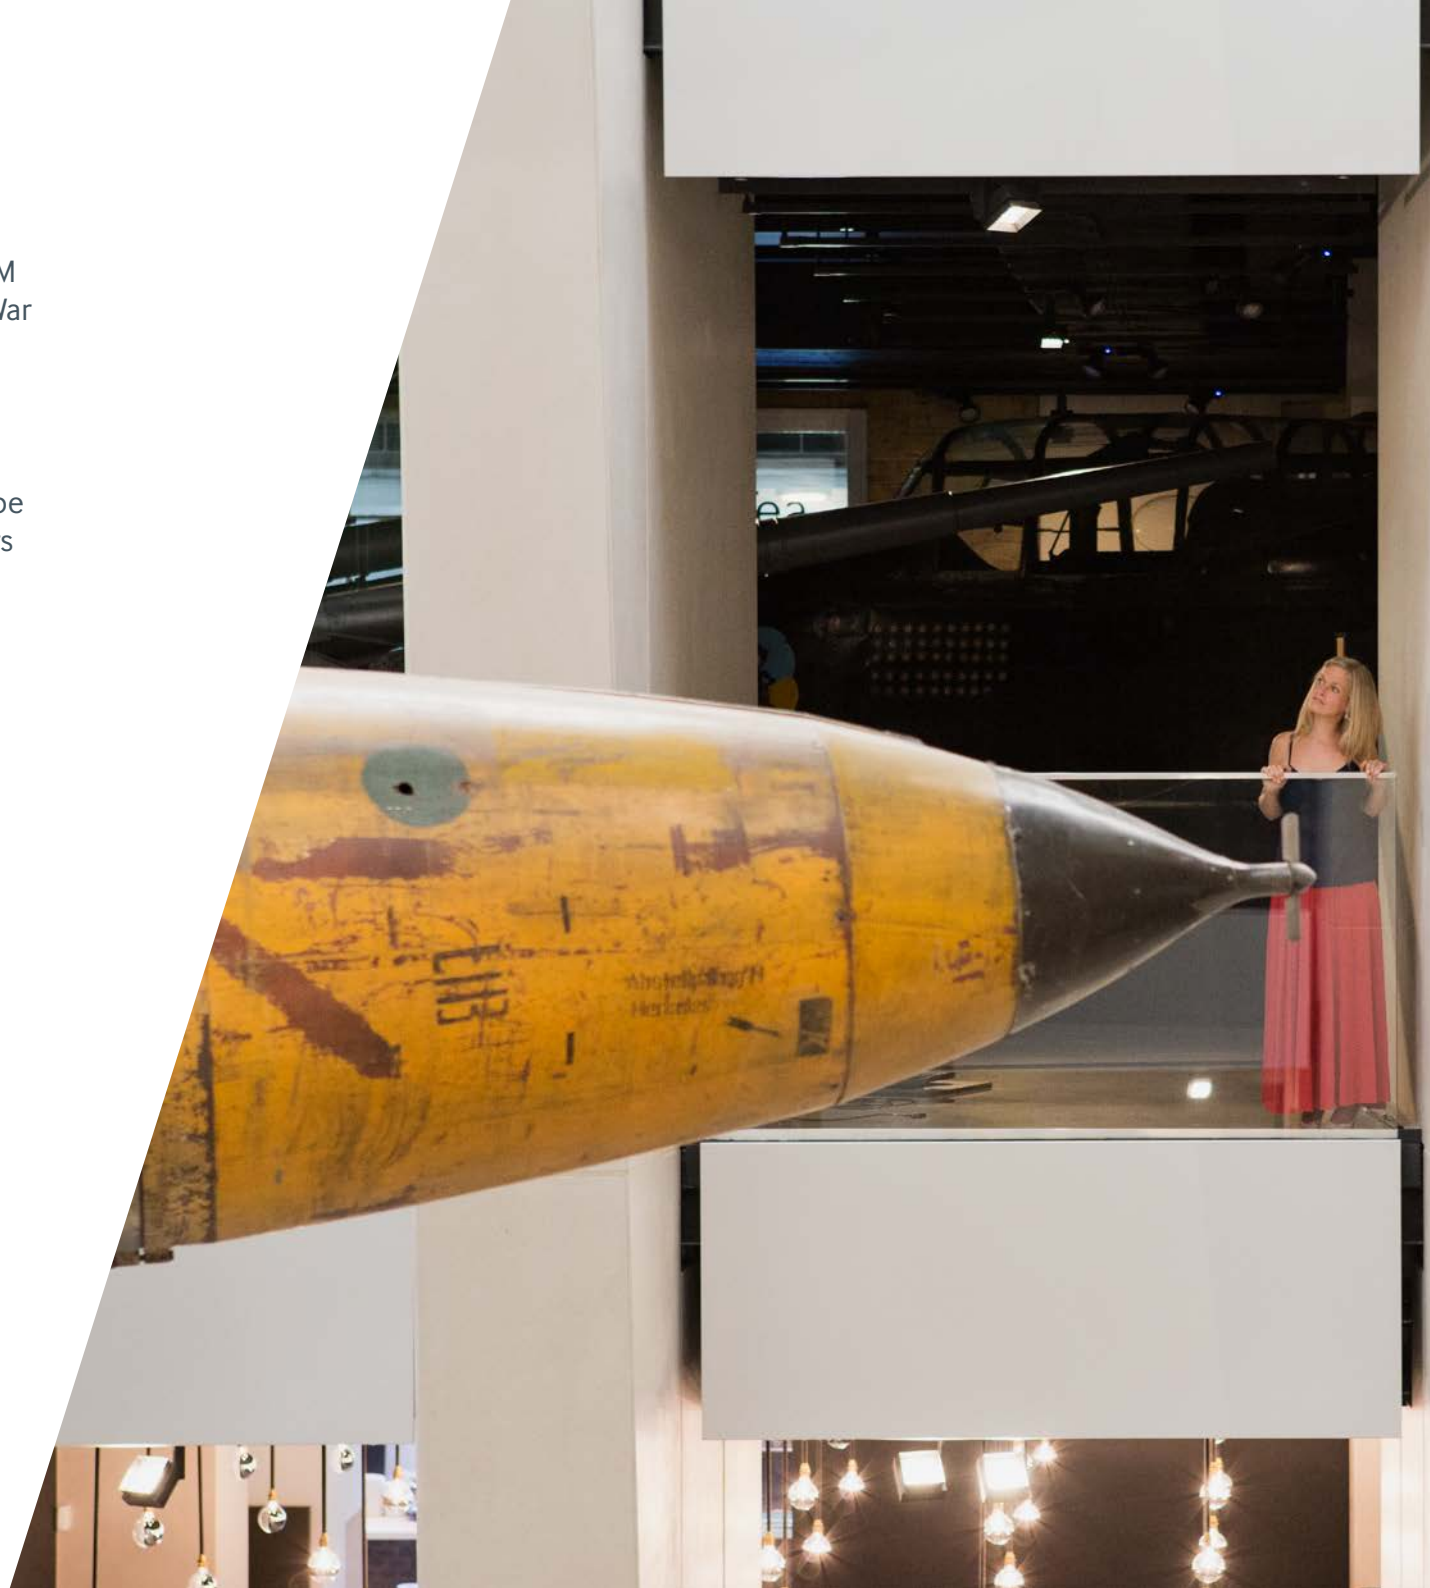

Private Tours

Our Private Tours are a perfect way to explore IWM London with exclusive access to our First World War Galleries, new atrium and highlights from our art collection out of hours. There are three exclusive tours to choose from.

Each tour lasts approximately one hour and can be booked for 9am–10am or 6.15pm–7.15pm. Tours cost £300 for up to ten adults.

To book or request a tour, please complete the online provisional booking form and we will get back to you within 5 working days. Bookings will not be confirmed until payment has been taken 7–14 days in advance.

First World War Galleries Tour

Enjoy a one-hour tour of our First World War Galleries. You will enjoy out of hours access to these ground-breaking Galleries which draw on our unparalleled First World War collections – the richest and most comprehensive in the world.

The galleries feature objects both large and small, including artillery guns, weapons and uniforms as well as personal love letters, photographs, art and film. Highlights include a recreated trench featuring a Sopwith Camel fighter plane swooping low overhead and a Mark V tank looming from above.

Our guides will reveal the stories behind the objects on display – such as the controversial 'White Feather'; the stuffed head of Tirpitz the pig and even the coat worn by Kaiser Wilhelm II – as they lead you on a private tour through the new Galleries.

Discover the story of the First World War – how it started, why it continued and its global impact – through the lives of those who experienced it on both the front line and the home front.

Atrium Tour

Take a private tour of our dramatic new atrium, featuring iconic objects including a Harrier jet, Spitfire plane and a V2 rocket. Encounter key objects from our unique collections and examine the themes, links and stories they tell as you journey through the atrium and onto our new terraced displays.

Since our inception in 1917, IWM has explored the impact of war and conflict on people's lives. This exclusive, hour-long tour gives an insight into our diverse and wide ranging collections and examines the links, themes and stories they tell.

From Second World War home front uniforms to the 'Little Boy' atomic bomb and twisted window frames from the September 11 attack on the World Trade Center, you will be able to discover the impact of war and conflict on people's lives from 1945 to present day.

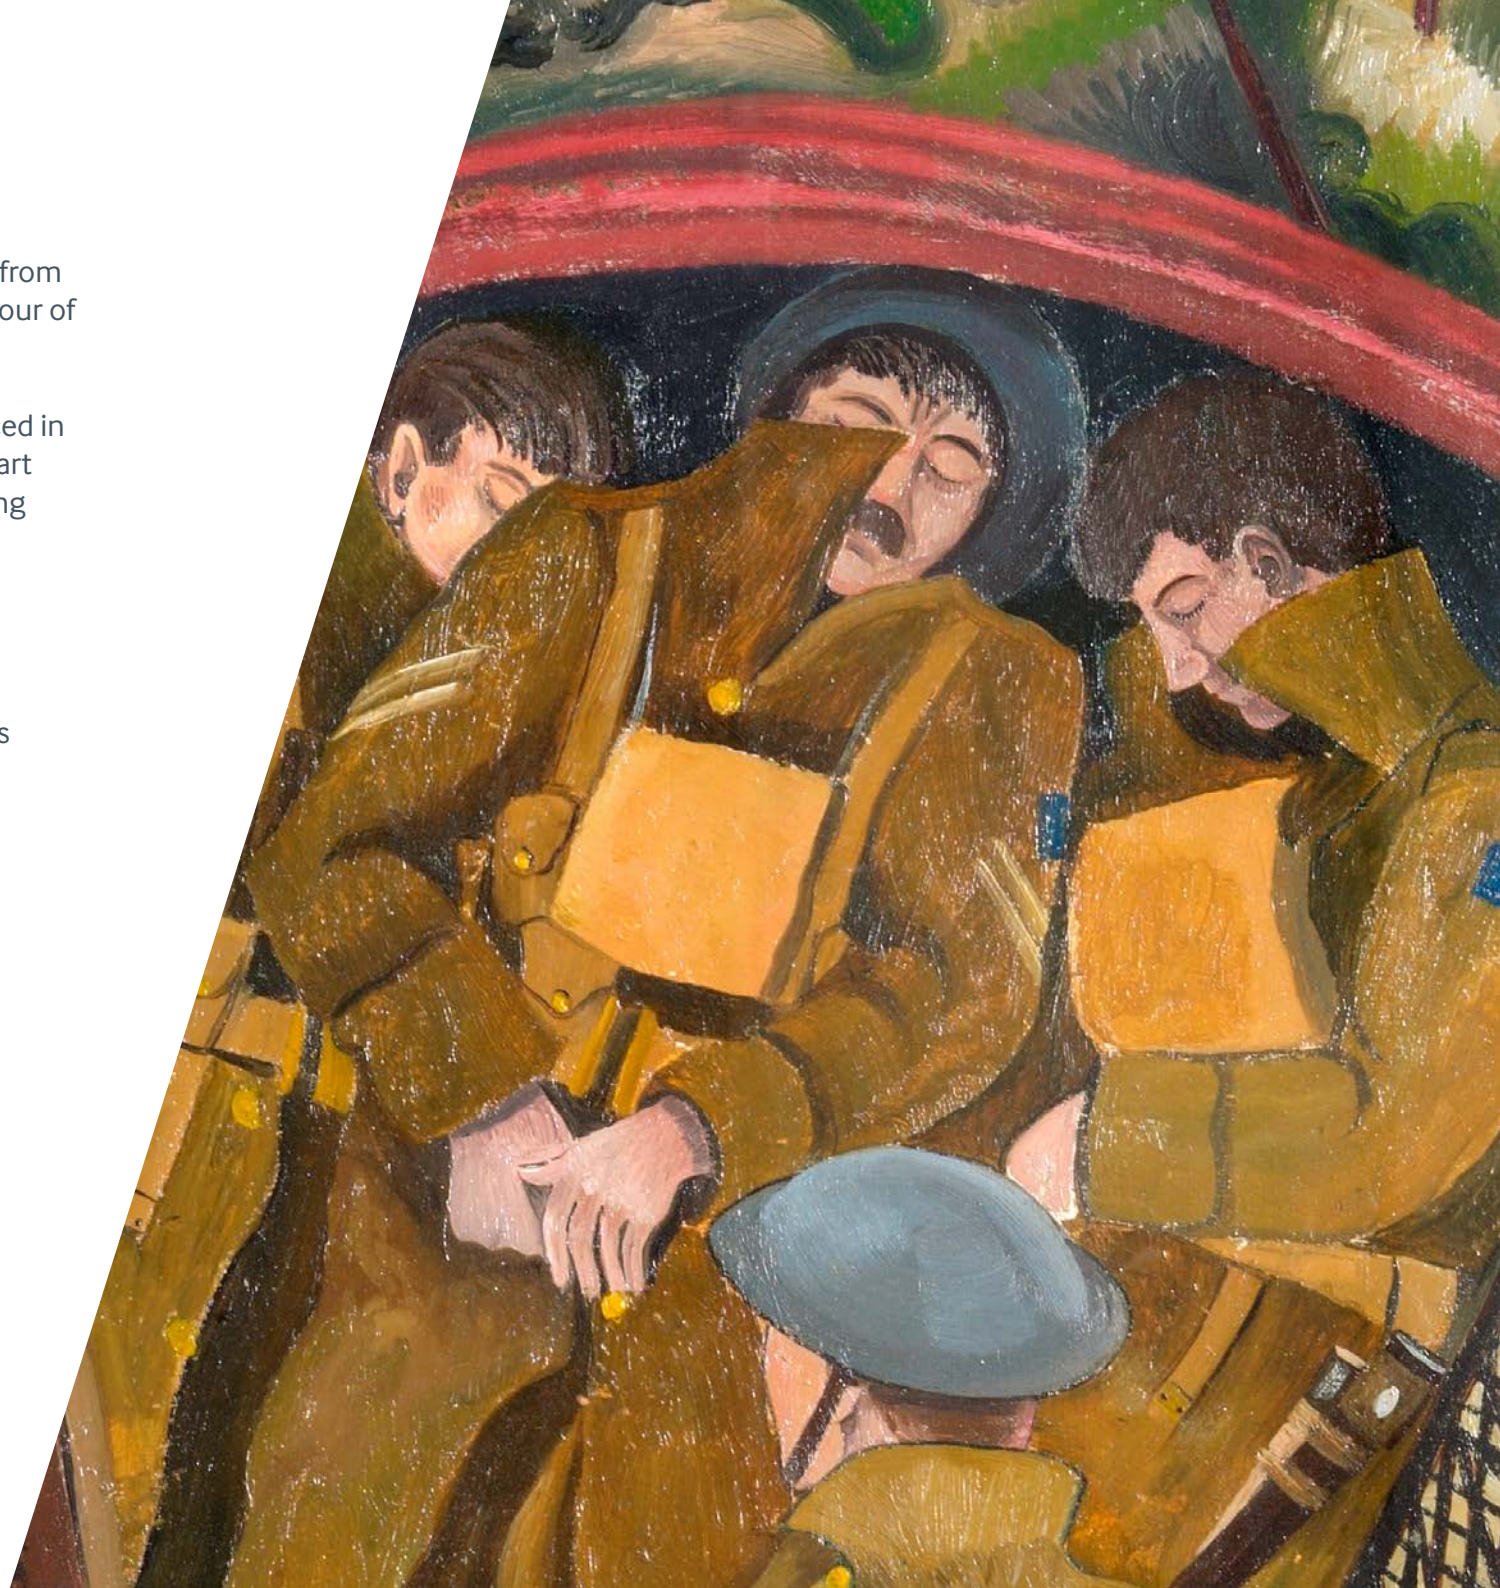

Art Tour

Explore a unique record of the history of conflict from 1914 to the present day on an exclusive private tour of our art collection.

Ranging from First World War art to works produced in response to conflict in Iraq and Afghanistan, our art collection contains work by British artists including Paul Nash, Stanley Spencer and Steve McQueen. This private tour reveals the history of our art collection and how we collect and commission British and international artists today.

Our guides will take you through our new displays and tell the story of how artists in the First World War turned propaganda efforts into ground-breaking art. See how Second World War artists took on an unprecedented effort to lift Britain's morale through public art and discover some of the thought-provoking responses to conflict created by contemporary artists, including IWM's own commissions.
